Petnet now available on Android™

After enduring pouty puppy eyes and cranky kitten glares from our non-iOS pets, we're happy to announce that Petnet is now available on Android!

That little green robot will be a welcome addition for meow moms and dog dads who've been wanting to personalize how their pets are fed. To them, we say welcome to the Petnet family, and happy feeding!

ADIDAS YEEZY 700 V3 CLAY BROWN

Originally called "Eremial," the Adidas Yeezy 700 V3s were renamed Clay Brown, and come in an earthy palette that reminds us of the Alvah. With an upper mostly composed of monofilament engineered mesh, the brown stripes woven across the sides add smooth contrast against the black background. Sitting atop the mesh is a signature detail of Yeezy 700 V3s, the RPU midfoot rubber cage, next to the infinity lacing system. A blue EVA midsole, Adidas-branded heel, and thin rubber mudguard around the toe finish off this dark, futuristic aesthetic.

Nike Ambush Dunk High

In the mood to go for a ride? The Nike Dunk High Ambush Black is all about motion. The collaboration between Nike and fashion powerhouse AMBUSH is reminiscent of old-school Nike Dunk releases from 1985, but with a modern twist: design elements inspired by Japanese bike and automotive culture. The overly extended Swoosh and projected heel counter mimic that of a motorcycle tailpipe and truck chassis, while the premium leather black and white upper provides the perfect canvas for the sneakers' exaggerated details. White leather paneling, an exposed foam tongue, and co-branding on the sock liners and tongue tags round out this reimagined, inspired creation.

Jordan 11 Retro Jubilee 25th Anniversary

To celebrate the 25th anniversary of the Air Jordan 11s, the classic silhouette is back with a very special edition.

Taking design inspiration from The Air Jordan 11 Concord and Space Jam colorways, the AJ Jubilee features glossy black leather around the bottom of the upper, underneath a standard black mesh. The nylon lace loops spell out "Jordan" in metallic silver, a detail that references an original sketch from the '90s by Tinker Hatfield. Amidst the black rope laces, you'll find a Jordan patch with the silver Jumpman on the center of the tongue, matching the Jumpman on the black insole. Rounding off the design is an additional metallic Jumpman with 23 branding across the tumbled black leather heel, a stark white midsole, and semi-translucent outsole.
